Section 4 – Accreditation / Registration (if applicable)

Not applicable (this is an administrative role).

Section 5 – Skills, Knowledge and Experience

I am applying for the Database & Payments Administrator role because it matches my skills well and because I would value contributing to a service that makes an important difference to the local community.

I have excellent attention to detail, particularly when entering and checking data, and I take real care to keep records accurate. At Pythian I worked extensively with databases and spreadsheets to record, monitor and retrieve key information, and I regularly identified and followed up on discrepancies to make sure records were complete and correct — experience that fits closely with reconciling payments and maintaining accurate attendance and payment records at EACS.

I am numerate and work to a high level of accuracy, and I am confident using Microsoft Excel, Word and Outlook. As a current MSc Artificial Intelligence student with a First Class degree in Computer Science, I am very comfortable learning new systems quickly, so I would get to grips with CORE Net and SumUp reconciliation without difficulty.

I am methodical and organised, able to prioritise my workload and stay effective under pressure, and I communicate clearly and sensitively — which I would bring to liaising with volunteer counsellors to resolve queries. I work well independently and on my own initiative, while also enjoying being part of a small, supportive team. I fully understand the importance of confidentiality, especially where records relate to people's care.

While I do not yet have direct experience in counselling services, I have a genuine interest in the voluntary and charitable sector and in supporting services that improve people's wellbeing. I would be proud to help EACS run smoothly behind the scenes.
